

The eye movement observed in this video clip is not rotary nystagmus, rather it is from the patient watching the ceiling fan as documented in the technician's notes. He was observed to be alert with wakefulness pattern on EEG.